OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Spirited Contest For Chairman, Won By Radford.

FOWLER VICE CHAIRMAN

Tobacco Association's County Committee Organized Saturday.

The election of officers of the county Tobacco Association Saturday developed an interesting contest for chairman.

The newly elected delegates were called to order at a few minutes after 2 o'clock by Chairman W. W. Radford and R. C. Rives was elected temporary chairman.

A roll call of the 30 districts of the county showed all of them represented except No. 28, Barker's Mill. The members present are here given, representing the 29 districts numbered consecutively: J. J. Barnes, E. W. Walker, W. S. Harned, S. G. Buckner, J. M. Renshaw, J. M. Anderson, Dr. Jno. P. Bell, J. T. Steger, M. B. King, N. O. Allen, Dr. J. L. Barker, Lewis Western, W. A. Glass, W. H. Smith, W. H. Jones, F. M. Quarles, D. F. Perry, W. B. Garner, T. L. Moss, R. C. Rives, W. H. Butler, John East, J. K. Thomas, W. S. McCord, D. P. Downey, Geo.

Farnes, C. B. Powell, Prentice Mercer and G. L. Campbell.

Chairman W. W. Radford and Vice-Chairman W. T. Fowler were placed in nomination for chairman and a resolution was adopted providing for vote by secret ballot. The vote was taken and the hat placed on the table with the ballots in it. At this point Judge Fowler asked to make a statement and he was given a hearing for nearly half an hour, in which he appealed to the members to vote for the best interests of the association and not from personal or political motives. Mr. Radford followed Judge Fowler in a similar well-timed speech, at the conclusion of which Dr. Barker moved that the ballots be destroyed and a new ballot be taken. This was done and Mr. Radford was re-elected by a vote of 17 to 12.

The vote for vice-chairman resulted W. T. Fowler 17, R. H. McLaughlin 5, Dr. J. L. Barker, 5. Judge Fowler's re-election was made unanimous on motion of both of his opponents.

Secretary W. A. Glass was re-elected by acclamation, though he protested against the honor. He was prevailed upon to accept.

The committee is composed of a fine body of men, representing the best citizenship of the county. Quite a number of the business men of the city were interested on or at the election.

MANY SUITS ON LAST DAY

Damages Asked in Several Cases Filed Last Friday.

CITY SUES AND IS SUEED.

S. C. Mercer Brings Heavy Damage Suits Against Son and Son-In-Law.

Friday was the last day for filing suits and several of more or less importance were filed at the last moment.

The city of Hopkinsville brought a suit against Winfree & Knight to recover from them a public roadway on West Seventh Street leading down to the ford south of a bridge. In 1893 the Tabernacle association bought a tract of land extending to "the west bank of Little River," at that time about 100 feet from the water, the valley of the river being occupied by the city, as a driveway leading to the water. In 1900 the tabernacle association sold a narrow slip of land on the eastern side of its lot to Winfree & Knight for $400 and decided to them the roadway and public ford, "to the low water line of the river." The purchasers thereupon closed up the roadway and erected unsightly frame buildings, perched on high trestles, along the front of the lot on Seventh street. It is to recover the public lands thus occupied that the city sues.

Miss Dorothy Adams and John Ducker sued the city of Hopkinsville and the Meacham Construction Co. for $7,500 and $5,000 respectively for injuries sustained on the night of Aug. 16. They were returning from Pembroke in a buggy and at the corner of Ninth and Campbell streets drove over a pile of cinders to be used in pavement building. Mr. Ducker was thrown out and Miss Adams remained in the buggy until the horse reached the postoffice when she jumped out. They both sustained injuries that laid them up for several days. The pile of cinders occupied only a small portion of the street, leaving a clear space 25 feet wide, being located between two electric street lights. The statement given out at the time was that Mr. Ducker was attempting to pass another buggy when the accident occurred.

Ophelia Johnson sued the I. C. Railroad Co. for $1,000 damages, alleging that she and her two children contracted pneumonia from riding in a car not supplied with heat, Dec. 25, 1906, while going from Hopkinsville to Paducah.

J. P. Meacham, of Gracey, brought suit against the company for $500 damages, for the removal of a phone without orders from the residence of his father-in-law, B. B. Nance, at Pee Dee. The phone was put in and paid for by the plaintiff and he alleges that defendant has refused to put the instrument back, leaving Mr. Nance without a telephone since last May. Plaintiff asks damages and an injunction compelling the company to replace the phone under the former contract.

S. C. Mercer sues Dr. F. P. Thomas and Prentice Mercer for $25,000 damages for their refusal to let him occupy the Mercer homestead, now the property of Prentice Mercer, and he also brings suit against the latter to set aside a deed which surrendered the plaintiff's life interest in the homestead. The litigation grows out of the unpleasantness that followed Mr. Mercer's recent marriage, to which his children were much opposed.

Walter M. Massie sues the L. & N. Railroad for $500 damages, alleging that the conductor of passenger train No. 52 on Sept. 7, ejected him from the train which he had boarded at Pembroke, although he tendered the fare in money.

John Young sues the I. C. Railroad Co. for $100 damages caused by a fire resulting from a locomotive, which set fire to a field of clover; and also $200 damages from a fill in the same field, which he alleges causes some of his land to be inundated.

The Travelers Pay.

Mrs. J. M. Campbell, Agent Travelers: I desire to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your check for $274.28, covering in full my claim in the Travelers for injuries sustained in a railroad wreck. The fact the claim was paid without the least delay or hindrance is particularly gratifying. I fully recognize the worth of the splendid institution you represent and am glad to take this method of expressing my sincere appreciation.

Yours respectfully,

R. E. Cooper.

Bruised by a Fall.

Mr. Lucian H. Davis received a fall while at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Low Johnson, Sunday. While romping in the lawn with some young people, he slipped and fell on some new made planks. One knee was painfully cut and his face and hands covered many abrasions. He is out, but looks like he had been playing football.

How to Remain Young.

To continue young in health and strength do as Mrs. N. F. Rowan, McDonough, Ga., did. She says: "Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured me of chronic liver and stomach trouble, complicated with such an unhealthy condition of the blood that my skin turned red as flannel. I am now practically 20 years younger than before I took Electric Bitters. I can now do all my work with ease and assist in my husband's store." Guaranteed at R. C. Hardwick's drug store. Price 50c.

PYRAMIDS OF EGYPT

The Theme of Dr. Jenkins Sermon Sunday Night

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins preached to an audience of about 500 Sunday night on Sept. 16, his subject being "In the Shadow of the Pyramid." It was admittedly one of the finest sermons of his travel series. Many members of other churches were present to hear him. Dr. Jenkins announced that he would spend a part of this week at Fairview helping Pastor V. L. L. in a meeting that has been in progress a week or more with the assistance of Dr. Powell. It is Dr. Jenkins' intention to return tomorrow night to conduct the prayer meeting service. His talks on "Christian Conduct" every Wednesday evening are drawing unusually large crowds to the weekly prayer meetings.

For example, there is scarcely any type of face in a girl, or young woman, to which a linen collar is not becoming. The severe white line with smart, large or small, is chic, and it is this fact which accounts for such collars not going out of fashion.

Put this kind of neck finish about the throat of a woman who is past middle age and she looks "seraggy" and passes. For her soft ruffles should be considered a necessity of life, or in their stead, white collars made of bias folds of soft muslin or lawn.

One of the most becoming, and at the same time inexpensive, ties that can be worn is made with a width of mull three-quarters of a yard long.
The ends should be rolled and wash
lace four inches in width gathered on
with double the fulness.

That completes the neckpiece, but the knick lies in the way it is put on.
Instead of holding it so that the ends
will be straight across, pull them so that they are bias. Fasten a separate white collar foundation on the neck, and then pull the tie so that it becomes the width of the collar. Put this under the chin and cross at the back, where it should be held in the middle with a fancy little pin. Bring the two ends around front and you will find that they hang long and pointed.
The ends should be rolled and wash
lace four inches in width gathered on
with double the fulness.

For the reason that hands betray age or illness by becoming wrinkled or seraggy, stiff cuffs should be avoided by all but the young. Soft cuffs must be used instead.

The reign of elbow sleeves is so complete that it takes a brave woman to give it no heed. Yet better that one should ignore it than spoil one's whole effect by an unbecoming finish, which these short sleeves usually make. This is due to the fact that a woman whose arms are pretty from the elbows down is the exception. "A well-rounded arm" exists more frequently in the mind of a poet or artist
than in fact, and the second form some decidedly homely specimens. If a woman who knows that she is no-blessed in this direction will give the matter a little thought, she will do much to improve herself.

COAT FOR SMALL CHILD.

Practical and Attractive in Almost Any Material.

The little coat illustrated shows a very attractive garment for a small child, the model being practical for almost any material, either in silk, cloth or linen. White linen was used for the original garment, the scalloping
and embroidery being done in white wash cotton. The little coat was made with a circular cape and tur-

NOT FOR THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED YOUTH'S BLOOM.

Soft Ruches or Neckwear of Muslin or Lawn Better Suited to the Elderly--Transparent White Undersleeves.

Starched white linen should be passed their first youth. The reason is simply because the hard, smooth texture of the material contrasts unfavorably and accentuates every wrinkle and bit of yellowishness or flabbiness in the skin. Better admit that the freshness of youth is gone and dress accordingly than make oneself appear older by emphasizing the gain of years.

For example, there is scarcely any

pearl buttons.

The diagram shows a full size scallop pattern and illustrates the embroidery stitches used. The work is so placed that the embroidery is quite heavily raised when fastened. If silk or cloth is used to make the little coat, the embroidery should be done in twisted silk of not too fine a grade.

Fans to Match Gowns.

The mandate from London is that the fashionable woman must have a different fan for every gown and one for every occasion. "A tiny fan is a shade to match the hat should be carried in the wink in the morning," says an authority. "An afternoon fan is more elaborate, but equally small. It is made of real lace or fine silk, embroidered with delicate designs. The fan is made of paper, printed with a floral design. A tiny mother-of-pearl fan folds into a vanity bag. The peacock's feather fan is a novelty of the season and floral fans made from real flowers will be largely in request.

NATURE'S ESSENCE.

Extracted From Forest Plants.

Nature's laws are perfect if we obey them, but disease follows disobedience.
To attain to nature for the cure, to the forest, there are mysteries here that we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the black-cherry tree, the root of mantra, stone root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal root, make a scientific extract of these with just the right proportions and you have Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work experimenting to make this vegetable extract and alternative of the greatest efficiency.

Just the sort of remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion.
Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery
bears the stamp of private approval,
and has sold more largely in the past
forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's own, and before I had taken all of one bottle
I felt better. If any doubt the truth of this statement, they may write to me.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets
for Constipation and so help to cure
the only tonic and restorative which absolutely cures so delicately.

Bids Opened.

The Fiscal Court met yesterday to open bids for turnpike construction on various roads. The Oriental Construction Co. had a general bid for each of the roads, bids running from $2,258 up to $3,755 per mile for 12-foot pike and $1,000 to $1,650 for 9-foot road.

Other scattering bids were received. W. F. Deason bid $2,800 on the Nashville road for 3 miles and A. M. Miller $2,150. The Oriental's bid was $2,258. Deason also bid $1,850 on Butler road.

The contracts have not been awarded yet.

RUSSELL-VANCLEVE.

Young Couple Wedded On "Friday the 13th."

Friday is not considered a lucky day for weddings, neither is the 13th in great favor, but a pretty young Hopkinsville girl showed her contempt for superstitious ideas by wedding the man of her choice on "Friday the 13th." Miss Erminie VanCleave spent last week visiting her brother, T. C. VanCleave, in Cadiz. Friday, Mr. T. M. Russell, of Elkton, her fiancé, arrived here and arranged for a wedding with romantic features. Miss VanCleave left Cadiz on the afternoon train for home. There is a lay-over of several hours between trains at Grace, and Mr. Russell concluded to secure the license, take a preacher with him and go to Grace after his bride in an automobile.

Rev. A. P. Lyon was quickly engaged and they sped over the ten miles to Grace in less than an hour and at 6 o'clock the couple were united. The wedding party returned at once, arriving here at 8 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. Russell took the night train for Louisville on a bridal tour.

The bride is the attractive young daughter of Mr. John C. VanCleave, who lives three miles out of town on the Clarksville pike. The groom is a representative of one of the prominent families of Todd county.

IN TROUBLE EARLY

Three Small Boys Charged With Housebreaking.

Ed Coleman and Herschel Combs, two small white boys, were arrested yesterday charged with entering the Planters Hardware Co's store and stealing 8 guns and 16 pocket knives. Coleman and Combs when arrested confessed and implicated another boy named Jim Meers. All but one of the guns and all of the knives except four were recovered. They said they found a back door in the basement open and made two trips, Saturday night and the Saturday night before.

As the cases go into the juvenile court and Judge Breathitt was out of town yesterday, their trials were not held. The parents of the two boys under arrest, it is said, are disposed to let them be sent to the Reformatory.

DO YOU GET UP

WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the news papers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the greatest medical triumph of the nineteenth century—discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, neuralgia, catarrh of the bladder and other diseases, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything that you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer, One Hundred and One North Second Street, New York, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghams, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Value and Importance of Ethical Remedies.

Remedies which physicians sanction for family use, as they act most beneficially and are gentle yet prompt in effect, and called ethical, because they are of Known Excellence and Quality and of Known Component Parts.

To gain the full confidence of the Well-Informed of the world and the approval of the most eminent physicians, it is essential that the component parts be known to and the most eminent physicians, the California Fig Syrup Company has published for many years past in its advertisements and upon every package a full statement thereof. The perfect purity and uniformity of product which they demand in a laxative remedy of an ethical character are assured by the California Fig Syrup Company's original method of manufacture, known to the Company only.

There are other ethical remedies approved by physicians, but the product of the California Fig Syrup Company possesses the advantage over all other family laxatives that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts, without disturbing the natural functions or any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs, and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs, and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for Syrup of Figs, or by the full name, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company, and the same heretofore known by the name, Syrup of Figs, which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

There cannot be worked again upon the people of this state.

You may fool the people once but you must adopt another game if you expect it to work—your deceits must be changed.

The fact that not one dollar was discovered to have been paid out of the treasury by the Democrats without warrant of law is too fresh in the minds of the people of Kentucky for them to be deceived now.

My friends, the records in the state offices are open to the inspection of the public at all times. For the last sixty days two clerks in my office have been kept busy showing the records to Mr. Geo. L. Tarnes, the postmaster at Frankfort, formerly a clerk under Republican Auditor Stone, and who is perfectly familiar with the records of that office; Mr. Todd, who was the private secretary of fugitive Taylor; and Mr. A. S. Bennett, secretary of the Republican campaign committee. These gentlemen, who were looking for campaign material, will say that every courtesy has been extended to them and every public transaction shown and explained to them.

We invite the most careful and searching inspection and examination of all the public records, and demand that Mr. Wilson and his associates give to the public specific reasons for the "black and white" and not content themselves to glittering generalities, and hints at irregularities.

When the Democrats took charge of the offices after Taylor and others had, like the Arab, "folded their tents and silently stolen away," it was discovered that through a Republican employee in the auditor's office $21,000 had fraudulently and feloniously disappeared from the treasury. After the theft had been discovered and the money paid back into the treasury by the head of the department, the culprit, who was known, was continued in office and the Democrats took charge. Now I ask you, what private party would you trust he holds?

Democratic Administration Proven

I am fixed absolutely in my belief that the greatest prosperity to the state can be attained only through the enforcement of Democratic policies; and that under Democratic administration the highest happiness may be attained by her people. Aside from the gratification of my personal ambition I would like to see my party triumph, for I believe that under the administration of that party, greater impetus will be given to the development of the state's resources, and that higher confidence will be inspired and greater security felt by those who have investments in the state. With my party in power, better reforms in the conduct of the charitable and penal institutions of the commonwealth will be promoted; a better common school system insured, and all the business of the state will be conducted upon a wiser, sounder and more economical basis than would characterize the administration of the Republican party should it be entrusted with power.

Over and over again the representative of that party which has at all times stood for the interests of the people, common people whose happiness I have always been anxious to put the slightest barrier in front of the progressive movement of the state in the onward march to its ultimate destiny of civil and commercial greatness.

My party has behind it many decades of honorable dealings with my people and before it many years of usefulness to the citizens of the commonwealth. It has to its credit a long record of unbroken promises, and the history of the state terms with the wise and salutary influences of its principles and its policies. In the peace, quiet and happiness of her people, Kentucky ranks with the best of the American states. Old Glory as it unfolds to the winds of heaven does not wave over a better people or a happier land. Nowhere in the "land of the free" are the people so free, so peaceful and happy as more than in the "Old Kentucky Home" whose door opens ever on hospitality to the stranger and across whose portals the waves of cheering sunlight roll and through whose windows pour in sweetest melody the music that God with his breath has laid in whispering symphony upon the trees. Nowhere under the stars of the blue canopy of God's eternal home are the people better governed, their interests better protected, or wiser and more beneficent laws exist than in our own beloved "Blue Grass State." Among our people rational discontent is unknown and no complaint is made of existing conditions, except by the Republican "pie hunter," and it is with feelings of horror and dread that our people contemplate civil and social possibilities of a repetition of a Bradley or Taylor administration.

The proud and peace loving Kentuckian does not wish to again live the streets of our capital city run riot with an army of ruffians whose mission it is to intimidate and overawe the public officials.

Memory of William Geisel Bill Frazer. Never again do we wish to see a brave, a conscientious and able servant shut down in cold blood at the very threshold of Kentucky's capital as he goes to perform his noble duties while the assassin fires for safety to the entrenched arms of a Republican chief executive.

The spirit of the murdered Geisel hovering about the tomb to whose timely embrace the bullet of the assassin consigned his mortal remains, cries out in protest. The bleeding form of the constitution trampled beneath the feet of the conspiring usurper, raises its head in supplication to protect it from the recklessness and lawlessness of the Republican party. The violated laws plead to be spared further depredation by that party, and the whole body politic protests against the violent onslaughts of that party which plunged the state almost into a whirlpool of anarchy.

Then let the voters of the state be true to themselves and true to the interests of the state by continuing in power the Democratic party through whose policies the prosperity of the people will be best protected. Let the sunshine of contentment continue to shed its genial rays in the factory and in the mine, and the consciousness of safety and security mantle the brow of the farmer as he labors in his field. Let not the prosperity of the state be lessened or it progress checked, but in the mountains and the valleys, in the cities and the country, in the courthouse and in the home, be it ours to see that the utmost may be enjoyed, that wise and conservative laws, properly administered and enforced, will insure. Under a continuation of wise and beneficent Democratic policies, I can see in the distant future a noble and puissant state rising in majesty from a broken lethargy, her fields, where the breezes make undulating waves of green and yellow, rich in the harvest of the grain; her mountains shorn of their barrenness, teeming with the activity of the mine; her factories busy with the whirl of industry, turning the raw material into the finished product to supply the markets of the world; in her homes peace and happiness; in her cities, rest and contentment, and in the country the arteries of political and commercial activity being supplied from the loins of the untrammelled tiller of the soil. All these and more, my fellow citizens, does the Democratic party promise and that promise will be fulfilled.

Cracked and Bleeding in Many Places—Became So Bad that Nail Came Off Finger—Tried Many Remedies and Consulted Three Doctors, but Got No Relief—Now Cured and Is Very

PROUD OF HAVING TRIED CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for about eleven years. The hands cracked open in many places and bled. One of my fingers was so bad that the nail came off. I had often heard of Cuticura Remedies, but had no confidence in them as I had tried so many remedies and they all had failed to cure me. I had seen three doctors, but got no relief. Finally my husband said that we would try the Cuticura Remedies, so we got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent Pills. Of course I kept Cuticura Soap all the time for my hands, but the cake of soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment were the best. It is a new blessing for me to have my hands cured. I am proud of having tried Cuticura Remedies, and recommend them to all suffering with eczema. Mrs. Eliza A. Wiley, R. F. D. 2, Lascab, Iowa, Oct. 18, 1906."

POLAR BEAR ACTS

The Carl Hagenbeck & Wallace Arctic Monsters in Marvelous Displays.

Greatest Animal Act of Any Time or Place.

The Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace circus presents more denizens of frozen wastes than ever arctic explorer looked upon at one time—gathered in a great steel-barred arena with a single intrepid trainer, they respond to his every wish and suggestion with intelligence so near human that it passeth understanding. Forming mountainous pyramids and arches with a mere man at the top; harnessed to go-carts and driven by their trainer; balancing on and rolling big globes; playing at ice-saw; riding tricycles; eating at table with great decorum; interpreting an amusing playlet by pantomime; simulating intoxication in an uproarious manner and accomplishing other incredible stunts.

TERRIFIC TUGGLE OF MAN AND BEAST. In which the biggest of the bears and the trainer engage in a fearful struggle for athletic supremacy. Brute strength pitted against science and skill in a contest governed by Greco-Roman wrestling rules. The meetings of human champions become as children's play in contrast with thrilling contest of man and beast.

"GATHERING OF THE GALLANTS." Another of Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace's Titanic triumphs.

Bringing together enemies of field, forest and frozen strand and making of them fast abiding friends. Introducing them in conjunctive performances that are astonishing beyond the power of words to depict.

A score of African lions and lionesses, royal Bengal tigers and tigresses, pumas, leopards polar bears and boarhounds, assembled at one time in the steel enclosure, conjointly doing the bidding of a single fearless man.

The Carl Hagenbeck & Great Wallace shows combined will be seen in Hopkinsville, Wednesday, Sept. 18.

Time to Stop It. This reign of terror has existed far too long. It must be stamped out. The sound advice of the friends of the tobacco growers has gone unheeded.

This lawless class is a disgrace to the entire South. It is possible that no member of the mob can be detected? It seems very plain that the authorities in the counties where lawlessness exists are at fault in not hunting down this band of criminals. Is it possible that the authorities, too, are intimidated?—Owensboro Messenger.

Worked Like a Charm. Mr. D. N. Walker, editor of that spicy journal, the Enterprise, Louisa, Va., says: "I ran a nail in my foot last week and at once applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A Thrilling Drama. A fine revival of the greatest of all romantic melodramas, "Monte Cristo," is to occupy the boards at the Opera House Wednesday night, Sept. 18. Manager Fred G. Conrad of the attraction promises that this most thrilling and absorbing of dramas will have its two requirements thoroughly well supplied, a good company and special equipment of scenery. The play as presented here will be perfected by one of the best of modern "Monte Cristo" star actors, Eugene Moore, who has presented the play with great success in all the leading cities of the country. It is well known that no play ever written has exceeded Monte Cristo in the power of its climaxes, or in the fascination of its story. The star part of Edmund Dantes, afterwards Count of Monte Cristo, has the added force given it by Mr. Moore during his hundreds of performances of the role. It is to be hoped that the laudable ambition of Mr. Conrad to provide the best kind of theatrical entertainment will be encouraged by a liberal patronage of this famous classic.
